NAVAL BATTLE WITH MUTINEERS

Kniaz Potemkin Resists the Attack of Russian Squadron.

POTEMKIN IS REPORTED SUNK

Rear Admiral Kruger Goes to Odessa to Subdue the Mutiny—Two Torpedo Boats Join in the Resistance. Battleship Sunk With All on Board.

Paris, June 30—A dispatch to The [illegible] Journal from St. Petersburg says it is reported there that a squadron under Rear Admiral Krugar has arrived at Odessa from Sebastopol and is shelling the Kniaz Potemkin and two torpedo boats with her, and that the mutineers are resisting. It is rumored that the newspaper has received a dispatch from Odessa asserting that the Potemkin has been sunk with all hands.

Four Thousand Sailors Mutiny.

Odessa, June 30—About 4,000 mutinous sailors are surrounded in a small fort near the port by infantry reinforced by machine guns. One thousand mutineers have already surrendered and given up their arms.

DID YOU EVER WONDER—

Why a baby carriage isn't known as a cycle?

Why it is so much easier to be wrong than it is to be president?

Why some people manage to talk a great deal without saying anything?

Why so many of our coming men seem to be handicapped from the start?

Why the company that issues the only and the only curveless railroad pass?

Why the average man invariably makes a fool of himself every time he tries to act un?

Why men are nearly always embarrassed when they propose—either financially or otherwise?

Why so many men who are anxious to work when sick are just as anxious to avoid it when well?

Why some men are not as black as they are painted and some are not as white as they are whitewashed?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Plain Clothes Men.

In a small South American state which has recently undergone a change of administration the new potentate has favored an artist and ordered new designs for all the official uniforms.

"I wish showy costumes—very showy," he said, "for the people are impressed by them. I have here some sketches that I myself have made. Look them over and be guided by these ideas as far as possible."

The artist examined the sketches carefully.

"This," he said, turning the pages, "is evidently for the navy and this for the army, but, if you please, what is this—a long plume on a three cornered hat, yellow dress coat trimmed with purple, and—"

"That," replied the chief of state gravely, "is for the secret police."

Be Kind Today.

Less spent on the dead and more spent on the living would bring about many happy results. Hearts are breaking, loved ones wait and tears flow all because of the withholding of kind words unspoken and letters never sent. The aged father and mother far off in the country would often be cheered did the son or daughter more frequently send them a letter. Behold the sad mistakes of others, their remorse, and profit by the same before it is too late. Today, now, speak the loving word, send the tender message, write the letter you put off day by day, and don't wait until you forget it or until bitter memories haunt you.

A Brazilian Household Pet.

Brazilians train a snake called the [illegible] as a rat catcher. It is fifteen feet long, is harmless to the human being, becomes quite a household pet, will lay in the daytime, but at night leaves about the house in quest of its prey—rats. These animals it promptly kills by twisting their necks. When it wishes to pass from room to room it does so by the doors and not through the walls.

THE WEARING OF BEARDS.

At One Time a Tax Was Exacted For the Privilege.

In days gone by the wearing of a beard was a privilege that had to be paid for, the tax on every beard of a fortnight's growth being 3s. 4d. In the gracious days of Queen Elizabeth. For over half a century the monarchs of Russia made their male subjects who wore beards pay into the national exchequer. This tax was imposed by Peter the Great in 1705, the nobles having to disburse 100 rubles and the lower classes 1 kopeck. The tax on beards was kept up by Peter's four successors on the throne of all the Russias, and it was finally repealed in 1762 by Catherine II. France, too, at one time imposed a beard tax upon the clergy, which was paid by those who could afford it, although the large majority had to yield to the razor's onslaught.

In the fourteenth century shaving was popular with young men, while the old men were attached to forked beards. The latter custom is referred to by Chaucer, who in describing an assembly says, "A merchant was there with a forked beard." Beards were worn in various shapes and forms during the reigns of Elizabeth, James I. and Charles I., as the poems, plays and other literary productions of those periods amply testify. In his "Anatomie of Abuses" Stubbs alludes to the barber who was accustomed to ask his client whether he wished his beard "cut to look terrible to your enemy or amiable to your friends, grim and stern in countenance or pleasant and demure."

William Harrison, a clergyman from whom one gains many peeps at the sixteenth century, refers to some of the styles of beards at that period. If a face happened to be "platter-like," a long, sleader beard would make it seem the narrower. If it be weasel beaked, then "much hear left on the cheekes will make the corner looke like a bowdied hed and so grim as a goose."—London Standard.

BUTTER WEIGHT.

What One Observer Learned From a Visit to a Grocery.

Live and learn. I heard a respectable looking, motherly soul, making purchases for the family, say to the grocer, "Be sure to give me butter weight, now, for I've been a long time customer of yours." "Certainly, Mrs. MacLaren," he replied cheerily, "you are entitled to it if any one is." Yet she bought no butter.

"What is butter weight?" I inquired when she had gone. "Why, that's just a little sop we hand out to some of our old customers," said the salesman. "Instead of making an exact pound of anything they buy we make it a fraction over, which tickles them nearly to death. Of course we are particular to let them see they are getting more than their money's worth; hence we keep their trade."

I next asked how the store made up for this extra allowance. "That's dead easy," was the reply, "but as it is a trick of the trade I don't think we ought to tell everybody." "Perhaps other customers receive short weight?" "If they do, we don't let 'em know it."

"Maybe your prices are just a fraction over the market?" "Never! We sell cheaper than anybody." "Maybe your goods are inferior?" At that he quailed.

Referring to a dictionary, I learned that butter weight is an allusion to a custom of exacting seventeen or eighteen ounces or even more to the pound of butter, possibly on the ground that the water in it would soon evaporate and bring the pound down to sixteen ounces. In Scotland troy weight (twenty-one to twenty-eight ounces to the pound) was used in buying butter.—New York Press.

The Wily Barber.

"Ah, yes," mused Mr. Oldboy, "when I was a young fellow and went to the hairdresser's to get my hair cut he used to flatter me by asking if I wanted a shave. Now when I go to the hairdresser's to get a shave he flatters me by asking if I want my hair cut."

Almost Human Intelligence.

Mrs. McBryde—John, I'm simply disgusted. While I was out this morning the cat got into the pantry and ate every single thing except a cake I had just baked. Mr. McBryde—What a wonderful thing animal instinct is, to be sure!—Cleveland Leader.

EDWARD'S BIRTHDAY WAS CELEBRATED

Only Officially, as it Really Falls on November 9th.

GENUINE AFFECTION SHOWN

Another Date is Always Selected to Do Honor to the King—The Celebration Was Only Limited to the British Isles. Whitelaw Reid and Wife Saw Parade.

London, June 30—King Edward's birthday was officially celebrated today. It occurs on November 9th, but as many people are away at that time he usually selects some other date. The celebration was only limited to the British Isles.

The genuine affection with which the British people regard their sovereign was evidenced, as always, in the keeping of a general holiday and the suspension of business. The towns throughout the Kingdom were gaily decorated, and the shipping at the various ports made a liberal display of bunting.

Thousands witnessed the parade from the viewing stands, including the new United States ambassador, Whitelaw Reid, and his wife. The King was greeted with loud applause.

Green Cocoanut Milk.

A dweller in the tropics says: "For a delicious early morning drink I recommend you to try the milk from the green cocoanut. Cut off the top of the nut with a sharp knife, pour the contents into a glass, and you have a drink fit for a king. The cocoanut must be cold. When in Singapore I was a bit seedy and consulted a doctor. Part of his prescription was cocoanut milk first thing in the morning. I took to it most kindly and often wish now that I had a chance of repeating that portion of the cure. Where the cabbage palm grows one has a good vegetable at hand—the heart of the head of the tree. In removing this the palm is killed. This growth is not bad eating raw, as I found when out hunting once. We fed on the palm and wild honey."

The Way of the Arab.

A traveler in Egypt writes: "In a camel caravan we once met in the desert there was a beast with a gigantic load of cases towering above and on both sides of him. On the left flank of this mountain of cases rode a small Arab slung in a sling. The reason was obvious—the camel engineers had miscalculated in loading and had put too much on the off side, thus giving the camel a heavy list to starboard. Arab-like, being too lazy to repack, they had corrected the error by using a light Arab as trimming ballast."

Luck and Labor.

Luck is ever waiting for something to turn up; labor, with keen eyes and strong will, will turn up something. Luck lies in bed and wishes the postman would bring him the news of a legacy; labor turns out at 6 o'clock and with busy pen and ringing hammer lays the foundation of competence. Luck whines; labor whistles. Luck relies on chance, labor on character.—Richard Cobden.

Deceived.

Mrs. Blinkers—What! Going away? Why? Servant—Please, mum, when I come yesterday you gave me the keys to your trunks and drawers and chests and jewel boxes to keep for you. Mrs. Blinkers—Yes, I did that to show that I trusted you. What is the matter? Servant—There don't one of 'em fit.—New York Weekly.

In Their Order of Importance.

"What did you discuss at your literary club this afternoon, dear?" asked the husband in the evening.

"Let me see," murmured his wife. "Oh, yes, I remember now. We discussed that woman who recently moved into the house across the street and Longfellow."

MISSOURI RIVER BOATS.

Trips of the Old Side Wheelers in the Early Days.

In the early days there was a regular line of packets between St. Louis and St. Joseph, all side wheelers, and the average round trip occupied eight days. A boat left St. Louis every day for the Missouri river, and as there were fourteen boats in the line each boat made a round trip once every two weeks during the season. During the winter the boats ran between St. Louis and New Orleans.

Coming up the river the boats run all night, but in going down they always laid up as soon as darkness set in. In going down the river the boats usually left St. Joseph early in the afternoon and laid up for the night at Weston, where there was always a lot of freight to load. The next day they went to Lexington, the next to Hannibal and the next to St. Louis. Occasionally during high water a boat would leave Lexington at daylight and reach St. Louis in time for breakfast the next morning.

The boats carried from 200 to 400 passengers on the trip up the river, counting the immigrants on the deck, but going back they only had cabin passengers. The cabin fare from St. Louis to St. Joseph ranged from $10 to $15, which included meals and stateroom. The boats were all supplied with fine cooks, and the passengers lived on the best that money could buy.

The average boat carried 500 to 600 tons of freight in addition to passengers. During low water freight that now costs 20 cents a hundred cost $2.50 a hundred. The expense of a round trip from St. Louis to St. Joseph, including loading and unloading, was estimated at $4,000, and the income from cost to $7,000. Each boat carried a crew of from 80 to 100 men. The average value of the boats in the line was probably $45,000 each.

The boats were often on sand bars, where they sometimes remained for a day and night, but altogether the time was made surprisingly well. A pilot who had a reputation for keeping his boat off the bars commanded as high as $500 a month. Each boat was provided with two pilots, and this expense usually amounted to from $900 to $1,000 a month. All a river pilot saved he put in his watch chain. You could tell a high priced pilot by the size of the links in his gold watch chain. A rattling good first mate who knew how to handle a boat after it struck a bar received $250 a month.

Poker was a favorite river amusement, and it was not an uncommon sight to see eight or ten games going at the same time in the main cabin of a steamboat. And the playing was for actual money, which was displayed in stacks on the tables.

Among the famous boats on the river at that time were the Kate Kinney, V. G. Aubry, Morning Star, John D. Perry, Sioux City, Omaha, Carrier [illegible] James H. Lucas. The last named made the fastest run in the history of the river—39 hours and 22 minutes from St. Louis to St. Joseph.

How Wines Are Colored.

"Most people think white grapes make white wine and dark grapes make red wine," said a waiter. "That is a popular error.

"Red wine is made by fermenting grape juice and grape skins together the skins giving the color, and white wine is made by fermenting grape juice alone.

"The juice of white and of dark grapes doesn't differ in hue. In each sort of grape the juice is almost colorless, like the weakest lemonade.

"Champagne, one of the dearest of the white wines, is made of a grape so dark as to be nearly black. But the juice of that nearly black grape is quite as pale as the juice of the blondest white grape."—Minneapolis Journal.

Wonder If This Is So?

If you put two persons in the same bedroom, one of whom has the toothache and the other is in love, you will find that the person who has the toothache will go to sleep first. Isn't it curious?

At the Wrong Time.

"I see your playing created a great deal of talk?" said the friend.

"Yes," answered the pianist, "but unfortunately it was mostly during my performance."

MR. ABRAMS PLEASED.

Is Now Located at Neubert Springs, Tenn., and Improving.

In a letter to The Sun from Neubert Springs, Tenn., J. K. Abrams, who is spending a vacation for the benefit of his health, writes that he is feeling better than for several years.

"This is a great place," continued Mr. Abrams. "After spending three days at the hotel in Knoxville sick, I arranged to come out here.

"The trip through and over the mountains from Tryon, N. C., to Knoxville via Saluda and Asheville, is beyond the comprehension of a 'Cracker' (like myself).

"Neubert Springs is seven miles from Knoxville, which is the nearest railroad station. We have a beautiful mountain stream running through the town, right at the rear of the hotel. We have three springs here—chalibeate, sulphur and epsom, and the analysis is very high.

"We are located right up the side of a mountain in the most beautiful spot imaginable, and the air is so pure it is almost blue. The people are most hospitable, and about the only 'kick' I have coming is that they are about to feed me to death—all the fried chicken and delicious milk and country butter and vegetables a fellow can stand safely under, and when I get back home I fear I will be spoiled in the eating line.

"As the best evidence that this place is healthy, I might add that a gentleman who came here sixteen days ago has gained twenty pounds—and is still improving. I am feeling much better, and am improving every day."

In concluding Mr. Abrams requests that his name be placed on The Sun mailing list, as he wants to keep posted on what is transpiring at home.

We are a race of workers.

To work and work with might and main, good food is absolutely essential.

Although nearly every one eats soda crackers sometime, yet there are a few people who do not consider their true value as an article of daily food. But it is now a recognized and established fact that the soda cracker contains the most tissue, fat and muscle forming elements of any article of food made from flour.

Great as is the value of the common soda cracker, yet it is small in comparison to Uneeda Biscuit—the most wonderful soda cracker ever baked, and of which nearly 400,000,000 packages have been sold.

Uneeda Biscuit, the food of power, transmitting as they do the elements so vital to our well-being, may in very truth be called "The Dynamo of the American People."

When Goldsmith Wrote.

An old volume which an Atlanta booklover prizes was found in an old bookshop recently. It is "The History of Rome," by Oliver Goldsmith. Goldsmith's name takes one back to the literary fellows of that day, the hack work they did to keep life in them, for when Goldsmith was at work writing that history he was doing twenty different things besides, little odds and ends that brought money for his daily bread, with a scolding landlady laying down the law to him, for it was the time when the great Dr. Johnson "thought himself lucky when he could dine in a cellar on sixpence worth of tripe and a pennyworth of bread and wipe his fingers on the back of a Newfoundland dog after his greasy meal!" And to think of the growling that is done by the little authors of the present day!—Atlanta Constitution.

"Home, Sweet Home."

"Home, Sweet Home," Payne's song, was originally a number in the opera "Clari, the Maid of Milan," a production brought out in 1823. The opera was a failure, and nothing is now known of it save the one song, which became instantly popular. Over 100,000 copies were sold in the first year of its publication, and the sale in one form or another has been constant ever since the first appearance of this beautiful theme. The melody is a Sicilian folk song and was adapted to the words by Payne himself.

If I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering." J. W. McCollum & Co.

EDUCATIONAL BOARD IS IN THE CITY

Will Make Through Inspection of City and Its Advantages.

A DISTINGUISHED PARTY

State Educational Board Arrived Via the Gainesville and Gulf, While Members of the Board of Control Came by Special Train From St. Augustine.

The city is honored today with the presence of many distinguished gentlemen, the members of the Educational Board of Control having arrived in the city. They are guests of the Brown House.

The members of the State Board of Education, comprising His Excellency, Governor Napoleon B. Broward; Hon. W. V. Knott, State Treasurer; Hon. W. M. Holloway, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Hon. J. Clay Crawford, Secretary of State, and Hon. W. H. Ellis, Attorney-General, arrived via the Gainesville and Gulf Friday night, and were met by a committee and escorted to their hotel. After midnight a special train arrived over the Atlantic Coast Line from St. Augustine bearing the members of the Board of Control. This board was also met by the committee. This board comprises Hon. N. P. Bryan of Jacksonville, chairman; P. K. Yonge of Pensacola, Nathaniel Adams of White Springs, T. B. King of Arcadia, and A. J. Brown of Eustis.

The board visits the city for the purpose of making an inspection in regard to selecting a location for the new State University east of the Suwannee and they will be shown about the city today. They will probably remain in Gainesville until tomorrow, proceeding from here to Lake City.

Individually the members of the board have many warm personal friends here, all of whom feel delighted at the opportunity to greet them.

BIG TIME AT WILLISTON.

People of That Section Indulged in Picnic and Had Fine Time.

Williston, July 1.—The people of Williston and vicinity participated in a grand picnic at that place Thursday, when one of the largest crowds for several years turned out. The picnic was given for the benefit of the Baptist church, and in the sale of refreshments about $55 was realized.

The dinner was beyond description, embracing everything imaginable good to eat, which had been prepared by the ladies of the community in a style which appealed to the hungry picnicker as a fine, juicy watermelon appeals to the appetite of the average darkey and that is saying a great deal. There was an abundance of everything and those who had the pleasure of partaking of the edibles are under lasting obligations to the ladies.

After dinner the picnickers assembled at the baseball grounds, where they witnessed an exciting but one-sided game between the Williston and Blitchton teams. This contest was played off to decide the location of the new State University. The Blitchton team represented Lake City, while Williston defended the rights of Gainesville.

It will be remembered that Blitchton is always the stronghold of Davis Taliaferro, while Williston was almost solid for Broward and Stockton. Williston was the successful contestant in this game, the score being twenty-seven to one—and the University question was settled so far as this section was concerned, for more than five hundred people signed a petition after the game, requesting the Governor and Board of Control to select Gainesville as the place.

It will be remembered that Levy county gave Broward a majority of about 270 over his opponent at the polls, and the voters of Levy claim that they are responsible for his election to that important and dignified office he now holds, and in requesting that distinguished gentleman and his colleagues, the Board of Control, to place the University at Gainesville, they feel sure their petition should not be ignored.

The people of Levy county are very much interested over this university matter and are using every influence in favor of Gainesville.

The following named persons shall constitute the faculty of said Summer School: J. A. Ormond, Principal; J. H. Coffee and O. M. Tillman. That said school shall be opened on the 10th day of July.

A Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party may be given to your stomach and liver, by taking a medicine which will relieve their pain and discomfort, viz: Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are a most wonderful remedy, affording sure relief and cure for headache, dizziness and constipation. 25c at all druggists.

Sea Water.

Sea water is a complicated mixture of a great variety of substances. Roughly speaking, it consists of 96½ per cent of fresh water plus 3½ per cent of mineral salts. Three-fourths of these salts are chloride of sodium, or common table salt, and the next largest constituent is chloride of magnesium. After these come sulphate of magnesium, sulphate of lime, sulphate of potash, bromide of magnesium and carbonate of lime. In addition to these substances sea water contains minute quantities of quite a variety of elements, including iodine, phosphorus and arsenic. It also contains some silver, copper, zinc, nickel, cobalt, iron and gold. There is said to be 2 cents' worth of gold in every pailful of sea water, but as yet nobody has found a way to extract it. Copper and zinc are found in some seaweeds, and certain species of coral is three-millionths silver.

Stonewall Jackson's Battles.

Stonewall Jackson's negro body servant knew before anybody else when a battle was imminent. "The general tells you, I suppose," said one of the soldiers. "Lawd, no, sir! De gin'ral nuvver tell me nothin'. I obsarvates de 'tention of de gin'ral dis way: Co'se he prays jest like we all mornin' an' night, but when he gits up two, three times in a night to pray den I rubs my eyes an' gits up, too, an' packs de haversack, ca'se I done fine out dere's gwine to be old boy to pay right away."—From Mrs. Roger A. Pryor's "Reminiscences."

Indigestion.

With its companions, heartburn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Odd Superstitions.

If an infant is weak and does not grow satisfactorily, it must be measured for the "undergrowth," according to a superstition in some Pennsylvania Dutch communities. A powwow doctor, usually a woman, will strip the child, measure it with a string the same color as its hair, say some "words," bury the string in a secret place and repeat the performance three times. The child will get well. There are dozens of children in one Pennsylvania Dutch community that were measured in this way and are now pointed to as examples and proof of the efficacy of the method.

Ashes must not be taken from a fireplace in a sickroom. The death of the patient would follow. Nor must the bed of a sick person be turned over. It is actually true that this last provision is believed and followed in many Pennsylvania Dutch homes in the old settlements of the state.

Makes the Liver Lively.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup gives permanent relief in cases of habitual constipation as it stimulates the liver and restores the natural action of the bowels without irritating these organs like pills or ordinary cathartics. Does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Remember the name Orino and refuse substitutes. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Hate All Around.

The famous English Chief Justice Holt and his wife hated each other to the limit, and when she fell dangerously ill he was so delighted that he became disgracefully tipsy. But his wife was equal to the emergency and sent for the great Dr. Radcliffe, who hated Holt, and therefore out of spite when the case was presented to him came with great promptness and saved her life.—London Chronicle.

Horrible Example.

"Maw, what is a horrible example?" asked the youngest boy, looking up from his newspaper.

The eldest boy stopped his figuring long enough to say, "Wait till you get into algebra, and you'll find any amount of 'em."

The Royal Road to Learning.

Freddie—What's an honorary degree, dad? Johnson—That's a title a college confers on a man who would never be able to get it if he had to pass an examination.—Tom Watson's Magazine.

A Game of Chance.

May—You have never taken part in a game of chance, have you? Ethel—No, but I am going to be married next week.

MISS GENEVIVE MAY.

CATARRH OF STOMACH CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

Miss Genevive May, 1817 S. Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind., Member Second High School Alumni Ass'n, writes:

"Peruna is the finest regulator of a disordered stomach I have ever found. It certainly deserves high praise, for it is skillfully prepared.

"I was in a terrible condition from a neglected case of catarrh of the stomach. My food had long ceased to be of any good and only distressed me after eating. I was nauseated, had heartburn and headaches, and felt run down completely. But in two weeks after I took Peruna I was a changed person. A few bottles of the medicine made a great change, and in three months my stomach was cleared of catarrh, and my entire system in a better condition."—Genevive May.

He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

THE APPOINTING POWER.

A Story of President Grant and an Obstinate Subordinate.

General Grant's generosity to his foes, his many private and official kindnesses to the widows and orphans of Confederate soldiers, is an old tale, but it bears repetition in the form of an incident which Helen D. Longstreet gives in "Lee and Longstreet at High Tide."

The widow of a Confederate officer applied to the postoffice department to be appointed postmistress in a small southern town. As she heard nothing of her application, she went to Washington to press it. She was unable to move the authorities at the postoffice department and was about to go home in despair when a friend suggested that it might be worth while for her to see the president.

With much effort she summoned courage and appeared at the White House. The president received her in a most friendly manner and after hearing her story took her application and wrote a strong but brief indorsement on the back of it. She hurried in triumph to the postoffice department.

The official to whom she presented the application frowned and pondered over it for some time and then wrote under the president's indorsement, "This being a fourth class office, the president does not have the appointing power."

The application was handed back to her, and she went away in deep distress and was again preparing to return home when another friend told her by all means to take the paper back to the president, so that he might see how his indorsement had been received. When the president read it he wrote under the last indorsement, "While the president does not have the appointing power in this office, he has the appointment of the postmaster general," and, summoning his secretary, President Grant directed him to accompany the lady to the department and in person deliver her application to the postmaster general.

She received the commission before she left the office.

No Benefit No Cost.

If you are weak and worn-out—if you are nervous, irritable, have headache, backache, neuralgia, or periodical pains, it is because you have exhausted your nerve force.

If you cannot sleep, and are thus robbed of the rest which nature demands for the restoration of mental and physical vigor, your system will continue to run down.

Dr. Miles' Nervine restores vitality by soothing and strengthening the nervous system, thus inducing refreshing sleep, and imparting strength and vigor to all the organs of the body.

There are very few instances where Nervine will not benefit; if not, your druggist will refund the money.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine I had a very sour stomach, with pain extending far around on my left side—attended with extreme nervousness. I dreaded to have night come, as it was impossible for me to sleep. Everything I ate distressed me. Before I had finished one bottle of Nervine there was such a change that my husband bought six more, which has restored me to health."
MRS. JENNIE SIMMS,
Rushville, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will return your money.

People who come to Florida because they enjoy better health while here than in the North, should remain here all the time. If you are healthy here in winter you will surely improve in the summer. This has been the experience of many.

The deadly revolver is getting in its work every day in this State, and the latest and most daring desperado is the negro at Chipley who shot the officer at the jail and thus escaped. He had been locked up for some time and is quite certain that some one who had visited the prisoner had given him a revolver. It would seem that it would be a good plan to cut the little informal receptions accorded these criminals while in jail.

The Bartow Courier-Informant will appear under new management. Editor Fitzgerald has retired as editor and Mr. McBride as business manager to go to Columbus, Miss., to edit a paper. The Courier-Informant has been an able paper under Mr. Fitzgerald's management. Gen. E. M. Law, the publisher, will take up the editorial management of The Informant and Mr. Stahl will control the business. The Sun wishes them abundant prosperity.

IMMIGRATION QUESTION.

The question of immigration is now uppermost in the minds of the people of the South and Florida in particular. One question is of vast import to the business and social interests of the State: What class shall we induce to come here?

There is one class that is most needed, and that is tillers of the soil. The foreigners who are to be encouraged should be the Danes, Swedes and Norwegians, who are the most industrious class to be found. They are known wherever found as quiet, unobtrusive people, who attend to their work all the time and are a most contented people. In many localities where they are found there are evidences of thrift, and they come to this country to make it their permanent home.

Great care should be taken to avoid the unloading of the slum element on the South. We do not care for such a class. The large tracts of farming lands that are awaiting settlement in all parts of Florida will make homes for a class that we desire to locate here. Possessed of a sufficient amount of industry and located on farms, the class we most need would cause not the slightest annoyance.

One feature of the coming into Florida of these people will be that they will settle on their own farms and do their own work. They are not renters or day laborers, but in most cases will buy their lands, cultivate and improve them and be a class of property owners instead of wanderers from place to place.

MILL MEN WIN CASE.

The Interstate Sawmill Association, of which Georgia and Florida dealers are members, will be pleased to know that Judge Speer, of the United States Court for the Southern District of Georgia, has decided the rate case in favor of the association. In his decision Wednesday Judge Speer says:

"In this case the conclusions of the court as to the issues involved agree with the conclusions of the Interstate Commerce Commission, as expressed in their report.

"A decree enjoining all the respondents against further enforcement of the rates complained of will be at once entered.

"Order will be taken referring to the standing master the pleadings and evidence, with instructions to ascertain the sum total of the increased rate paid by each the complainants to either or all of the defendant companies since the rate went into effect, and to the end of this litigation, and report such amount so the court, in order that, pursuant to the stipulation made by the respondents in open court, that in case the complainants prevail decree of restitution shall be made.

"Because of the vast extent of the lumbermen's business and the great expense and inconvenience which might result to them and to the lumber trade and the railways from instantaneous enforcement of this action, it will be ordered further that the decree now granted shall not take effect until ten days from this date have elapsed, in order that the respondents, or either of them, if they so desire, may seek the usual supersedeas."

CHANGING THE SUBJECT.

What Lincoln Said When Harvey Ended a Two Hours' Talk.

The late Hon. Charles W. Slack told the following of the Hon. Peter Harvey, the friend and biographer of Daniel Webster:

Mr. Harvey was a large man with a small voice and that pomposity of manner that many very diffident men possess. Above everything he valued and prided himself upon his friendship with the "great expounder."

The first year of the War of the Rebellion he went to Washington, and on his return was asked how he liked President Lincoln.

"Well," he said, "Mr. Lincoln is a very singular man. I went on to see him, and told him that I had been an intimate personal friend of Daniel Webster; that I had talked with him so much on the affairs of the country that I felt perfectly confident I could tell him exactly what Mr. Webster would advise in the present crisis, and thereupon I talked to Lincoln for two solid hours, telling him just what he should do and what he should not do, and, will you believe it, sir, when I got through all Mr. Lincoln said was, as he clapped his hand on my leg, 'Mr. Harvey, what a tremendous great calf you have got.'"—Boston Herald.

The Brick In His Hat.

"Shorry I'm sho late, m' dear," began Dingle apologetically, "but shome fresh jokers stopped me an' wouldn' lemmee go"—

"Indeed?" interrupted his wife. "Why didn't you take the brick out of your hat and hit them with it?"—Philadelphia Press.

BEAU BRUMMEL.

Some Incidents In the Life of This Noted English Fop.

An English paper prints a number of stories of Beau Brummel, some of which perhaps are not generally known. At the Pavilion, at Brighton, he ordered the footman to empty his snuffbox into the fire because a bishop had taken a pinch unasked. A man whom he had met at dinner offered him a lift in his carriage to Lady Jersey's ball. "Thank you exceedingly," said the Beau, "but how are you to go? You would not like to get up behind, and I cannot be seen in the same carriage with you." He made no secret of his humble birth and when asked about his parents declared that "the poor old creatures both cut their throats years ago eating peas with a knife." Once at least Brummel met his match. He was playing hazard at Brooks', when a well known alderman, a brewer, was one of the party. "Come, Mashtub," said Brummel, who was the caster, "what's your set?" "Twenty-five guineas," was the reply. "Well, then, have at the mayor's pony," said Brummel, who proceeded to cast, and by a run of luck won the stake twelve times in succession. Pocketing the money, he thanked the brewer and promised that in future he would drink no one's porter but his. "I wish, sir," replied the brewer, "that every other blackguard in London would tell me the same."

AN AID TO HEARING.

Opera Glasses Help the Ears as Well as the Eyes.

"Hurry them along, please," said the woman customer as she left a pair of opera glasses for repairs at a Chestnut street store. "I can't hear well at the theater without them."

Another customer who was waiting smiled when the woman left at her apparent mistake. "She meant she could not see," he observed.

"No," rejoined the optician; "she meant just what she said. Opera glasses are an aid to hearing as well as to sight. You can prove it any time you are seated well toward the rear in a theater by training the glasses on a singer. As long as you keep the singer under scrutiny with the glasses you will be able to follow the words of the song with ease. Drop the glasses and you will notice a difference. It will require more or less of a strain to catch the enunciation distinctly.

"By the use of opera glasses a theater patron is enabled to note distinctly every movement of a singer's lips, and the unconscious 'lip reading' greatly aids the sense of hearing. If you ever attend a public meeting where it is impossible to get close to the speakers provide yourself with opera glasses, and you will be surprised how greatly they will aid you in hearing."—Philadelphia Record.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

BAR HARBOR.

The Early Days of This Now Famous Maine Summer Resort.

In 1688 Mount Desert and its neighborhood were granted by the French to a man named Cadillac. When Acadia was finally as a result of that long war relinquished to England it was given to Governor Bernard, but as this gentleman when the Revolution broke out was loyal to King George the estate was confiscated. Meanwhile M. Bartholomew Gregoire and his wife, Maria Theresa, who was the granddaughter of the original grantee, revived the claim of Cadillac, and it was allowed.

For years the island remained a solitary place, with long stretches of unbroken forests into whose labyrinths no stranger dared venture without a guide, its land uncleared, its future undreamed of, but artists, weary of the commonplace, found out the spot and bore to dwellers in towns glimpses of its wild charms, and now and then a world worn, brain spent man would steal away to seek the island's solitude and stimulus. These seekers for beauty or health would carry their own camp outfit, or later would patronize the hotels.

The first summer cottage there was built on a site that was bought for $300. When fashion had put her stamp of approval upon the place land that would not have brought a dime an acre during the time of the Gregoires was sold at from $25,000 to upward of $100,000 an acre.—Four Track News.

Grinding Incense In China.

A missionary traveling down the Lan river in Mongolia says he passed thirty-one rapids in one day. At most of them were water mills for the grinding of aromatic trees into powder to make incense. The trees are chopped into small pieces and thrown into a hole in a heavy millstone, which revolves on a larger stone as the water rushes through below. In the rainy season, when the river flows full and fast, a pair of mills can grind 200 catties (266 pounds) of incense a day. It is made up into bundles of this weight and sold on the spot for fifty strings of cash (about $6).

The Original Pygmies.

African pygmies are about four feet to four feet three and a half inches high. To be in harmony with their name, however, they should measure only thirteen and a half inches in height. For the original pygmaei, whom Homer believed to live far to the south and who were warred upon by cranes [illegible] whom Herodotus knew to exist in Africa, were named after the Greek measure "pygme," literally a fist. This was supposed to be the distance from the elbow to the knuckles, reckoned at eighteen "dactyli," or fingers, equal to thirteen and a half inches.

The Diamond Cure.

The latest news from Paris is that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. McGee of Vanleer, Tenn. "I had a cough, for fourteen years. Nothing helped me, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief, and effected a permanent cure." Unequalled quick cure for throat and lung troubles. At all drug stores. 50c and $1.00.

STAGE REALISM.

Why Joe Jefferson Didn't Have a Real Dog Schneider.

It was the privilege of the writer years ago to attend a reception at which Joseph Jefferson spoke on the drama. His treatment of the subject was interesting, the utterance of a man who knew the art of which he spoke. But the most interesting part of the hour came after the completion of the formal address, when an opportunity was given to the audience to ask any questions they wished of Mr. Jefferson. Soon the familiar topic was introduced, the effect of the modern elaboration and realism in stage setting. Mr. Jefferson at once rose to the question. He spoke somewhat rapidly, with a quaint humor and sympathetic charm that were irresistible. He characterized the modern fashion of stage setting as "a tribute to the weakness of the human imagination." "I am often asked," he went on, "why I do not have a real dog Schneider. But if I did none of you would be satisfied. You would go home saying, 'Well, Schneider never looked like that dog!' You love Schneider because you have made him out of a piece of your own heart. And then," meditatively, "if I had a real Schneider some one in the gallery would probably whistle to him at the critical moment, and he would bark and spoil the play. While if he knew his part perfectly and did just what Schneider ought to do"—pausing and with his delightful smile—"Schneider would be the hero and not Rip!" Then, with a twinkle of the eye, he summed up the whole matter with the quiet remark, "Realism with a tail to wag in the wrong place is a dangerous thing."—New York Post.

Detective Captain—How did you manage to spot the thief through his woman's disguise? Detective—I saw him sit down and noticed that he gave his skirt a hitch with both hands, as if to keep it from bagging at the knees. Then I grabbed him.—Washington Star.

A STRENUOUS REMEDY.

How a Servant Tried to Sober Up a Bibulous Diplomat.

The story had reference to a former senator of the United States who was sent to Russia as minister. There were many evidences in the archives of the legation that sobriety was not this gentleman's especial virtue and among the very many copies of notes in which the minister, through the secretary of legation, excused himself from attending engagements at the foreign office on the ground of "sudden indisposition."

Mr. Prince told me that one day this minister's valet, who was an Irishman, came to the consulate and said: "I'll not stay with his igsilliney anny longer. Oi've done wid him."

"What's the trouble now?" said Mr. Prince.

"Well," said the man, "this morning I thought it was toime to get his igsilliney out of bed, for he had been drunk about a week and in bed most of the toime, and so Oi went to him and says gentle-loike, 'Would your igsilliney have a cup of coffee?' when he rose up and shtruck me in the face. So that Oi took him by the collar, lifted him out of bed, took him across the room, showed him his ugly face in the glass, and Oi said to him, says Oi, 'Is this the eyes of an invoy extraor-r-r-r-dinary and ministher plinipotentiar-y?"—From the Autobiography of Andrew D. White.

HUMMING BIRDS.

Feeding the Bantlings Looks Like a Dangerous Operation.

When I first crawled in among the bushes close to the nest the little mother darted at me and poised a foot from my nose, as if to stare me out of countenance. She looked me all over from head to foot twice. Then she seemed convinced that I was harmless.

She whirled and sat on the nest edge. The bantlings opened wide their hungry mouths. She spread her tail like a fan and braced herself against the west side. She craned her neck and drew her dagger-like bill straight up above the nest. She plunged it down the baby's throat to the hilt and started a series of gestures that seemed fashioned to puncture him to the toes. Then she stabbed the other baby until it made me shudder. It looked like the murder of the infants. But they were not mangled and bloody. They were getting a square meal after the usual humming bird method of regurgitation. They ran out their slender tongues and sucked the honey from their bills. How they liked it! Then she settled down and ruffled up her breast feathers to let her babies cuddle close to her naked bosom. Occasionally she reached under to caress them with whisperings of mother love.—Country Calendar.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at all drug stores; price 50c.

SURE HER TOOTH WAS OUT.

Force of Imagination as Exemplified In a Dentist's Chair.

Dentists have a splendid opportunity of studying the power of imagination. A New York practitioner by way of illustration told a reporter about one of his women patients. She entered, accompanied by her husband, and, pointing to her swollen face, asked the dentist to extract the offending tooth. He placed her in the chair and, taking the small hand glass which dentists use, put it into her mouth for the purpose of examining the molar which was to be extracted.

The glass had no sooner touched the tooth than she uttered a frightful scream and, bouncing out of the chair, rushed out into the waiting room, crying that her jaw was broken. The united efforts of her husband and the dentist were for some time unable to persuade her that the tooth was not extracted and that she could not possibly have been hurt. After examining her mouth with the aid of a glass she finally became convinced that the tooth was still in its place. Taking her seat in the chair again, she submitted to the operation of extracting the tooth without a murmur and expressed her surprise that the pain was so slight.

Forced to Starve.

R. F. Lee[illegible] Concord, Ky., says: "For 20 ye[illegible] suffered agonies, with sore on r[illegible]pper lip, so painful, sometimes[illegible] I could not eat. After I tr[illegible]ything else, I cured with Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the best in the world for Cuts, Burns, Boils, Sores, Ulcers, Skin Eruptions, Piles, Corns and Warts. Only 25c at all drug stores.

A dog supposed to be mad created considerable excitement on the streets last night, finally coming to The Sun office and stationing himself at the front door. The office force from the editor to the galley-boy were posted and for the remainder of the night—or at least until the animal decided to leave—it is needless to add that all doors were barred against the would-be intruder. It is not believed that the dog was affected with hydrophobia, however, as he took matters too coolly. It is believed that he was sick from poison administered by some person.

PRYOR, TENN., June 1, 1901.

Dr. E. W. Hall, St. Louis, Mo.—Dear Sir: I have suffered several years from kidney and bladder trouble and have tried a number of preparations, but can truthfully say that nothing has proved so effective as your Texas Wonder, which I can truthfully recommend. GEO. W. CLAIBORNE.

A TEXAS WONDER.

One small bottle of the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, seminal emissions, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women, regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent by mail on receipt of $1. One small bottle is two months' treatment and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Dr. Ernest W. Hall, 926 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

HAVE BOUGHT A FARM.

Manners & Nelson Will Engage in Modern Trucking at Williston.

J. H. Manners of this city and Henry Nelson of Williston have purchased a portion of what is known as the Newsome farm near Williston and will engage extensively in trucking on a modern and up-to-date scale.

The tract purchased comprised ninety acres, all cleared, and is exceptionally fertile. The soil is particularly adapted to the growing of cucumbers, although truck of all kinds grow well.

This firm proposes to begin at once making improvements on the property and by early fall will have the tract planted. The first move will be the installation of a fine system of both surface and sub-irrigation. Mr. Manners states that the plant will be the finest that can be secured.

Mr. Nelson, who is a trucker of long experience, will be superintendent of the farm and great things are expected of this venture.

IMPROVING PROPERTY.

Robert Albright Making Many Changes in Farm Recently Purchased.

Robert Albright, who recently purchased from August Wenske nine acres of land in New Gainesville for trucking purposes, went to work immediately to improve the property and is making nice headway. There is a neat four-room residence upon the place and temporarily Mr. Albright and his family are residing there. He has also purchased from Mr. Wenske on Alachua avenue a desirable building lot and proposes as soon as the material can be secured to erect a handsome home.

Mr. Albright moved with his family from Terre Alta, W. Va., several weeks ago and are well pleased with Gainesville.

MEETING SCHOOL BOARD.

Convened in Annual Session Friday to End Business of Year.

The Board of Public Instruction of Alachua county met in annual session in the office of Superintendent Kelley Friday, which is the custom at the end of each fiscal year.

There was a full board present, and the time was devoted to balancing the accounts and settling the annual affairs of the board.

A Handsome Curtain.

One of the handsomest works of art of its kind ever seen in this State is the drop curtain at the opera house which has just been completed by D. A. Benson and which brings forth strongly Mr. Benson's ability as an artist.

This curtain is 12x20 feet. The center-piece is a German scene, "Moonlight on the Rhine," and is truly a work to be admired. The towering mountains serve as a handsome background, while in the foreground the beautiful and world-renowned Rhine wends its way lazily along. A stone bridge spans the stream, and the picture in all is one which will be admired by lovers of art. In its production the artist has blended his colors softly, modestly and harmoniously, making just the proper effect.

Around this center-piece are advertising squares or spaces, representing twenty-one of the leading merchants of this and neighboring cities. The workmanship upon these squares is in keeping with the picture, and altogether the curtain is a most attractive one.

Mr. Benson, who has been a resident of this city for the past three months, enjoys the reputation of being one of the most competent scenic artists in the South.

Notice to Water Takers.

The water rents for the quarter ending September 30th, 1905, will be due and payable to T. B. Ellis, collector of revenue, on or before July 15th, 1905. The rules regarding the cutting off of water and turning on the same will be rigidly enforced by recent order of the City Council, if not paid at the proper time. J. M. TULL, City Clerk.
